STODDARD WELLS 40th ANNUAL TAILGATE

By Brett Ward, Tailgate Chair

Well dear members, we pulled off another year as host for the Vendors, SoCal club members and the public from near and far who braved our spat of foul weather and road concerns to attend our 40th Tailgate. Most of our new Vendors when polled learned of our Stoddard Wells "Tailgate" primarily by word-of-mouth and social media. Nothing new there, eh?

I have asked our newsletter editor and a few Board members to allow me to "split" the post Tailgate wrap-up into two articles. First to address those club members I'm sincerely grateful can rise above most anything and suit-up and show-up to carry on our clubs traditions.

My May article submission will focus on the suggestions, complaints and financial/accounting for this years Tailgate, which is usually the very first question. How $uce$$ful was the Tailgate this year for the club? Short answer, "yes", net positive. By how much is yet to be determined.

To advise new and remind older members how the financial responsibilities and "checks and balances" system are set up (thanks in large part to Carole McMichael's input years ago) as of the day of writing this article (3/17/16), a meeting with the Treasurer, two or more Board members and myself has yet to be arranged for the 3-4 hours it takes to open, count and verify all drops, confirm sequential carbon copies of three witness signatures for each drop amount and finally all store expense receipts. Then we can determine, create and present a written report of the 2016 Tailgate net profit to the Board for review, acceptance and then present to the membership.

The net specifics should be available in the report to those who attend the April 5th Board meeting at 7:00pm and later presented to the membership at the April Pot-Luck and General Membership meeting beginning at 6:30pm.

My first VERY special thanks and DEBT of gratitude goes to a NON-member who many members here know or have heard of his good works. THANK YOU Bradford Smith, Moderator (I suspect much more, lol) of LA ROCKS, and author of the books "Bench Tips for Jewelry Making" and also "Broom casting" both available at Amazon or pick up your copy here locally in Hesperia at the "new" Mining Supplies and Rock Shop.

Yes, a shameless plug for Brad... (BenchTips@yahoo.com)... YOU ALL have NO IDEA what this man did for our club and me, on his own initiative to contact me out of the blue to HELP with the errors and omissions in MY publicity efforts for the 2016 Tailgate. Brad got our event back onto the CFMS shows online website on 3/5/16 and then sent out a personal Email with our Flier/MAP to over 3,500 rock hounds using his SoCal and beyond mass Email list in addition to great placement on the LA ROCKS website. RARE indeed are persons of his character and caliber! I enjoyed meeting Brad on Saturday and our few minutes of conversation. I'm sincerely thankful a few like him are still among our "rocks-in-the-head" community! You rock Brad! Keep on Rock' in-on!

Next up is our club's Wednesday, 3/9/16 set up crew. Thanks to Dwayna and Ruben with a truck, Frank D. and John P. with his BIG truck, George and Ceci K with their covered truck for transporting the entire kitchen Tailgate items dust free to the Tailgate site.

ROCK OF THE MONTH

“Picasso” Marble

An attractively patterned marble that takes a handsome polish

BY LITA R. SMITH-GHARET

FEATURED IN LAPIDARY JOURNAL, July 1990

We all know the beauty of a finely polished agate or piece of jasper; the way the light bounces off its mirrored surface to reflect the fine lines and patterns of the uniformly grained harder stones. A marble from south-east Utah currently being mined is reminiscent in appearance of some of the loveliest of these silica materials. We call it “Picasso” marble.

This material has a Mohs’ hardness of about 3-4 and so needs to be handled carefully. It works up much more quickly than the patterned agates and jaspers with their hardness's near 7 and other traditionally worked lapidary materials. This makes it easier to work, but sometimes a little too easy if the cutter isn't careful.

Narrow Vein

The colorful marble lies in a small vein only about 18 inches wide and is faced on both sides with a not so appealing dirty grey marble. It appears that the rock has been broken open and new mineral solutions have intruded through the cracks and healing the fractures of the existing marble. A great deal of the filling color is a black webbing that points into the center of the vein and appears t have been caused by a carbonaceous matter; the oranges, yellows, and browns by iron oxide deposited by iron- or magnesium-bearing silicate mineral solutions.

At the beginning of the vein is a brecciated zone that fed the mineral solution into the cracked marble. Here is where the colors are the most vivid and the pieces have the finest grain structure, which makes for the best polished pieces.

However, it takes a lot of hard work to get to the good stuff. When working in the mine, we bulldoze, backhoe, and hand-pry out about 14 tons of host rock to free one ton of the patterned Picasso. Then when we have piled up all of this rock, good and bad, we next have to go through it piece by piece with a four-pound crack hammer. We take off the four corners of each piece, looking for those pieces with consistent color and pattern. This saves us from trucking worthless material down the mountain.

The pieces of Picasso marble come out of the ground in rather handy sized blocks or cubes, about four to 20 pounds, sometimes larger. The blocks are not only fairly easy to handle but also fit very nicely in an 18” saw.

Grades and Shades

As one slabs into this stone, the oranges and browns appear nearer to the surface and surround the grey and black patterned inner portions. This is true on all of the “A” and “AA” grade material. The smaller pieces will have about the same thickness of oranges as the larger ones, but the larger pieces have much more grey in the middle. The very large pieces have less pattern toward the center.

When selecting material, for instance at a show, keep in mind that the smaller blocks tend to have the brighter colors, are probably more solid, and will fit nicely into the saw. The larger pieces can be odd shaped, have much less color and pattern, and are more likely to come apart in the saw. Good Picasso marble should have some corners missing so that material beneath the surface can be peeked at. If the grain pattern looks “sugary,” there isn't much color variety, and the piece is very ragged in shape, then it is probably not good material. It may be “B” grade or less, and the price should reflect this.

The vein of material we are now working is, as stated not very wide, and the “A” grade does not run very long. As we go deeper into the ground, the marble is more bonded together, making the pieces tear out of the ground. The color is less intense and the irregular shapes and stress fractures make for a lot more waste on the production end when working up hundreds of pounds. So purchase this marble carefully. Take the time to look it over, by the piece or by the ton, and make sure you get what you are paying for. If the rough rock does not have good color in it, then the finished piece won't either. Not all Picasso marble was created equal!

Readily Worked

We have mined many tons of this material and have also worked up quite a bit of it. By far, this is the most workable stone with the least amount of difficulties of anything we've cut.

In the saw we use diesel fuel without suffering any discoloration to the material. Cabochons work up with silicon carbide on a good padding; diamond works great too, but it is not necessary for this softer stone. When it's time for the polish, after a 600 sanding, a muslin buffing wheel with almost any of the stick compounds works well. A hard felt wheel with the same sticks will give as good a polish and much more quickly. There are no wet, sloppy mixtures to splatter about and the time involved is not great.

Owing to the small, uniform grains in this marble, it can even be cut into small beads and successfully drilled.

Look into the stone and the pattern there will soon begin to form pictures of dark forests, swamps, sunsets in the desert, and others too numerous to describe. Whatever the landscape or scene it brings to mind, Picasso marble can be readily worked into an admirable finished piece. ♦

The M.V.P. goes to Don P., ever and always helpful and reliable with his 'ole "goldilocks" pick-up truck. His grandson Cody riding shotgun helped us all on those set-up tasks most of us just can't repeatedly bend down and do any more when putting up the canopies, lol.

This crew above transported all necessary Tailgate items out to the site and set up so the kitchen equipment and sale supplies could be arranged all day Thursday, right after escorting the "A-1 Portables" driver with our five porta-potties. A BIG THANK YOU to the crew for all "the set-up" memories! Fantastic performance with no (major) injuries to report this year.

Next in line to thank is Nick Beall.... Yes, Nick, who passed away a few weeks before this years Tailgate. As I was reminded at the Tailgate and then mentally connected the dots to his "instructions" given to me so many years ago when I accepted (and proved myself in his eyes) the position as Chair, for his eight hand crafted custom steel canopy stakes, which Nick made of his own volition for the Tailgate Chair to guard and protect above all else (there is a long story of Nick and JoAnn Beall's driving force (wind) ordeal behind the creation of these stakes by Nick...see me sometime for the second hand story). Thank you Nick, R.I.P. Your foresight saved our Bake/Drink sale booth this year (again), but old man weather played havoc with our clubs "tan" guest seating area canopy, which folded like a cheap tent and six of the eight "legs" are a total loss.... Who was it on set-up Wednesday that asked me if we "should throw out the old box that tan canopy came in or should we save it in the POD"? My gut intuition said "save it"... well now we can hopefully order a duplicate model from that old box ID and the club will have many matching spare canopy parts.

SO, in their order of daily appearance (early mornings and on and on...) is Frank D. and John P. who arrived before 6:00 am to help get things rolling (boiling) and handle customer relations, coffee service and collecting sales during the Vendor breakfast rush. Great job guys! Just a few hours of your service this early made the Vendor breakfast routine flow smoothly.

Now here is where I'll get all sentimental over Pat Estes, who joined and immediately was of service to our club shortly after me in 1998. I'm guessing when she found out that young (in college now!) Michael roll a Fosse (THANKS Michael for all your years of service and talks) wasn't there this year as he had been for over four years straight to help with the Vendor breakfast, Pat came out of Breakfast retirement items before we could get "rolling" :) as in rolling "Virgil style" Breakfast Burritos...Amazing how the hands remember how to roll a perfect B.B., huh Pat! I'm so very grateful you were there to help after having already served for three straight years as a personal commitment to the club's Tailgate along side Gayland G. and me several years back.

Pat E. has served in many "official" capacities over the years for our club, and I for one remember and appreciate all her time and devoted efforts, especially on her good ideas, often shot down by the you-know-whotypes. We hope to see her around more if only for a few pot lucks and meetings.

And before I forget, Gayland G., when he arrived on Saturday, called out to me to come over and presented me with my largest and best Tailgate sign board which he noticed was missing from its usual pole just after Stoddard Wells Rd becomes graded dirt. He stopped and searched until he found and retrieved this large hand painted/reflective sign board far from the pole from which it had blown off even with five screws!

THANK YOU Gayland! Another member who has served our club in many capacities and we would all enjoy having around our clubhouse!

And then there's the Super Duo who without their dedication and physical endurance I could not have made it through this year... George and Ceci K. arrived at 8:00 am EVERY morning to relieve Pat E. back to her Vendor site and these two WORKED as hard as ever the ENTIRE weekend AGAIN...what am I gonna do without you two? George is a great front man for our club, aloha style, and I'm still learning from his laid-back demeanor. Thank you George! And Ceci, well Miss Energizer Bunny, you know this operation inside and out, so if I "go" first, you'll have to train the next Tailgate Chair :) Ceci also spent a lot of time doing mass baking of popular selling items (biscuits and gravy, yum !) as she has done the last several years. Thank you Ceci!

And for the lunch rush, well, best if I stay on the grill and out of the kitchen when Ceci and Chieko P. are working as an assembly line team! Chieko left her Vendor site to help with the lunch and afternoon rush all weekend long. A few of the busiest hours for the booth and Chieko saved the day! Without Chieko's help, Ceci and I would have been tripping over each other and making quite the humorous spectacle of what customer service should NOT be...THANK YOU Chieko for all your help in our booth and sacrifice of time away as a Vendor.

Now, most have heard about and/or wished they'd never witnessed what an idiot I had become by Friday afternoon; a coffee induced, sleep deprived scatter-brained mess with attitude. Well, slap me silly to break me out of it then! SO, I likely have left out a few of our club members who were working inside the food booth and I was elsewhere putting out fires (or when I ran up the hill for opals :) If I've neglected to mention your Tailgate service, please let me know by phone or Email to correct this oversight in the May club newsletter.

And one more thank you to correct an omission from LAST years Tailgate. I had accepted an assignment over seas just after the funds were accounted/deposited by the Treasurer and the final reconciliation of income/expenses was completed and accepted by the Board. I didn't have time to write a post Tailgate article for April, 2015. I did not learn of Bob and Candee P.'s move out of state until this February's General Membership meeting, and I want to thank them both here for posterities sake, for their dedicated support of the club and especially Tailgate set-up and tear-down; their banter and Candee's way with the public and working with Ceci so well during the lunch rush at our booth. Bob and Candee worked every day of every Tailgate after they became members in 2012. SO, if you two are following the club's website and happen to read this article, know you are deeply missed around the clubhouse by me and many more!

Out of ALL of our MEMBERS baked goods and food item donations, I'm pleased to report only a few wrapped plates were UN-SOLD again this year (6-8 in club fridge). A BIG THANK YOU to all club members for your time and expense to prepare food donation items! These items are SO CRUCIAL to being able to pay the expenses of hosting the Tailgate and adding funds to support our clubhouse! We virtually "SOLD-OUT" this year by Sunday close.

Just the right amount and mix of items donated to match the people turnout/purchase ratio, and items were sold at fair pricing to benefit our club. GREAT food/snack items this year, all were received well! I can't wait to see what you'll think of for next years Tailgate!

Sunday afternoon was a close call with the wind up again during the tear-down of the main club booth canopy...it is down. George and Ceci were able to fit all the plastic "tubs" of the Tailgate kitchen gear/equipment and supplies in their covered truck bed AND they left early to unload these key items BY THEMSELVES (alone) at the clubhouse. We few remaining members were tasked with the tear-down of canopies, heavy tables and 32 folding steel chairs, etc.

Allow me to jump ahead here to thank Charles T. for his 6-7 hours of help as needed back at the clubhouse on Tuesday, 3/15, wiping down all the gear that did make it back to the clubhouse to be organized and re-packed in the "island" for ease in preparation to host the 2017 Tailgate. Thank you, Charles T.

Okay, now to conclude with the SAD ending.... NOT ENOUGH member HELP or trucks to bring all of the club's Tailgate property back to the clubhouse and into the POD. It's all still out at the Tailgate site awaiting volunteers to go and get. There was barely enough members who support the club despite personal issues or differences for the greater good of the club... a lack of members willing to "move-on" and get back into experiencing the satisfaction of volunteer efforts well appreciated, to get our 40th annual event "off the ground". The few dedicated members served consistently to put on our event this year, BUT, we needed the critical help with lifting and packing bulky, heavy items and bringing back all our "stuff" in open pick-up trucks. Members around the Tailgate site on Sunday before they left didn't seem to ask or offer if they could help in some way, or made excuses why they couldn't help when asked, especially those who have access to a truck to accomplish this final important task. TOO MANY ASSUMERS (haters) out there still, eh?

So at our 3/22/16 General Membership meeting, plan on voting to set aside tight budget money if items for hosting the 2017 Tailgate need to be repurchased... We'll discuss/figure out a way at the General Membership meeting who can offer their TIME, can arrange for or has an open truck bed, and finally, the all important medium-to-strong backs to load the clubs equipment, and we'll arrange a trip out to the Tailgate site to retrieve the club's assets... That is if they're not already full of buckshot and bullet holes...

Well, it is ALMOST April 1st! I had to say, make the point about how close a call it was to get EVERYTHING back in its place at the clubhouse! ONLY Val C. with her truck, Don P. in his truck with the help of his VISITING (non-member) friend also named Don and my little cab-over camper stuffed to the ceiling made getting this final return trip possible. HOW can you get involved next year to ensure that our club is represented "on-site" AND back "home" from our OWN event?

What do you feel has to occur with the club or with yourself to move forward as an active and supporting member of our club?

My sincerest thanks and gratitude to those members who can rise above past "difficulties" and venture beyond to be of service to our club. I will write part two, the final Tailgate wrap-up (much shorter) for our May newsletter edition. ♦

Brett Ward, Tailgate Chair

FEBRUARY GENERAL MEETING MINUTES

Call to order at 7:04

Pledge of allegiance

18 attendees - A quorum is present.

Introduction of Guests - none

Roll Call:

President, John Printz

1st VP, Sandy Skidmore

2nd VP, Lia Hamilton - Absent

3rd VP, Meg Martinez - Absent

Recording Secretary, Dwayna Barron – Nothing to report

Treasurer, Craig Britt – Craig reported on club finances, giving bank balances. All insurances bonds and bills to date have been paid.

Corresponding Secretary, Val Costello - Absent

CFMS Representative, Patti Deer – Almost every week there is a gem show being put on by other clubs; closest one is coming up in March in Arcadia. She encouraged people to visit other gem shows to get an idea of how they conduct their shows and bring back ideas for ours. Board Members:

Corey Beck – Nothing to report

Terry Booth - Absent

Steve Hendrix - Absent

Don Pomerence – Nothing to report

Minutes: Deferred to next month

Newsletter: Dwayna asked for volunteer articles and other articles/pictures deadline is 15th of each month.

Brett Ward: Tailgate – Brett asked for a variety of baked goods to sell, they are a good money maker for the club. Even with a large volume they sell out with no loss of inventory. Last year was a full house, he feels sad that so many have left. Wednesday the 9th we will meet at 7:45 am to load and take everything out to the site. Thursday, porta-potties come out about 11am. Porta potties picked up Monday morning for those who want to stay an extra day. George and Ceci will start out with breakfast and a few baked goods. Hot dogs/Polish dogs are on the menu. Brett already printed out flyers for 2017. Flyer for November show and next years flyer and a contact slip in envelope for donation, to be given out on Saturday. Help is needed mostly for food and getting gear there and back. Sunshine: Marilyn – Nothing new to report.

Displays: Don – Needs someone for display case in April. Joyce is leaving her display for March.

Photography – Nothing to report.

Hospitality – Nothing to report.

IT - Absent

Webmaster – Absent

The club still needs the following positions filled: Wagon Master, Petrified Pups, Historian, Building Maintenance, Incoming Donations, and Auctions & Donations.

Board approved purchase of overhead projector up to $1,400.00. A motion was made to purchase an overhead projector. Marilyn/Linda/Approved Board approved up to $2,000 for security cameras for Kaman Bering parking lot. Motion made to go forward with purchase. Patty/Tom/Discussion: Working on a wireless system. Corey has a computer person who has experience with systems like this to give an estimate. Brett suggested something with a remote view and cloud storage of imaging. It was asked that we look at system that can be seen remotely with password on computer/smart phone. Charles suggested that money be put into the budget to purchase signs occasionally to show that property is under surveillance. Want to see if the less expensive system works first. Should work within 100 meters and will go high up on pole in front of Kaman. Motion approved.

Sign up sheets are at the front table for this Saturday waffle breakfast. Clean up Friday at 9:00 am

Starting March: Clean up will be the 3rd Saturday of month prior to potluck from now on, Kaman asked to do something about the landscaping in front of their building. John stated that that will be worked on as well.

A cabochon contest was suggested by Corey: looking for ideas for contests: Can be contests or something to break up the meetings as all business tends to be kind of boring; need to see videos or do something that's fun and encourages some kind of competition. Ed Deren suggested a buy, sell, trade night and silent auctions were mentioned. A motion was made to start a contest, starting with cabochons and go to other items starting in April. Sandy/ Approved. Put in Newsletter. Contest: NEW item's not things already done. Three categories: Beginner, Intermediate, Expert/Advanced.

Good of the order: No one spoke up.

Motion made to adjourn 8:31 pm. Patti/Sandy/Approved

Dwayna Barron

Newsletter for CFMS is posted on bulletin board. Will let us know more information as it comes up. Patti will be checking web-site for additional information.

Past President - Vacant

A motion was made to dispense with February minutes to be posted in book: Terry/Patti/Approved

Abbreviated January minutes were read, because they were prepared by Meg, Dwayna asked for clarification on some issues. A motion was made to accept minutes as read with corrections. Patty/Craig/Approved

Brett Ward reported on Tailgate. Brett stated that he got good deals on food. He asked if phone tree can call around and ask for food keeping a running total of what's committed; Brett will supply a list. The tailgate did not get reported to CFMS, they would not assist Brett to get it done. Is Newsletter automatic to other vendors/clubs, etc.? Brett will follow up with Jim Fosse. Last year there was discussion about charging a fee, if idonations fall off this year, do we want to revisit the issue?

Newsletter: Dwayna asked for volunteers for articles re: club info and volunteerism.

John asked Patti Deer to put her investigative committee together ASAP.

Sunshine: Nothing

Photography: Nothing
